CITY BRIEFS.

Bad travelling.
And every little bit of snow is gone. The rubber stores have a rush of customers.

The dealers in turkeys are hoping for "foul" weather this week.

Who repairs your shoes? John Mott, 34 Congress street.

This is the week when the turkey acts it—in the neck.

Henry E. Evans is building a new hotel at York Chiffs.

Diphtheria relieved in twenty minutes. Almost miraculous. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. At any drug store.

The Wentworth house at Kennebunk beach is to let for the coming season.

Five handsome summer cottages are building at Kennebunkport this winter.

There are a lot of people who would like to see The Burgomaster come back to Muske Hall.

Is it a burn? Use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. A cut? Use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. At your druggists.

Music Lessons on Violin, Cornet, Mandolin and Banjo. R. L. Reinwald, Bandmaster U. S. Naval Band, 6 Court street.

Porting the system against disease by purifying and enriching the blood—in other words, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Just received 500 bushels extra fine Vermont potatoes we are selling at reasonable prices, at the Public Market.

"I suffered for months from sore throat. Electric Oil cured me in twenty-four hours." M. S. Gist, Hawesville, Ky.

Don't tell the boys of Portsmouth that here is skating back as far only as Concord. If some of the boys get thinking it over, the capital city will see many Strawberrybank youngsters on the ice.

The cat is running in at York and Hampton in a remarkable way and the electric are well patronized by passengers who make the trips to see the L. A. waves and the spray.

The exercises at the Middle Street Baptist church on Sunday evening were interesting and there was such a comparatively small number present that many of those who were present with the exercises had to be operated in the near future.

Two thousand demons gnawing away at one's vitals couldn't be much worse than the tortures of itching piles. Yet there's a cure. Doan's Ointment never fails.

Among the exchange mail of the Herald today were two copies of the Commercial Advertiser of Honolulu Hawaiian Territory of dates of Nov. 13 and 14. The papers are extremely interesting, the news service and illustrations and advertising being highly creditable.

Ernest G. Cole has received credentials from Washington appointing him postmaster of Hampton. Mr. Cole has been acting postmaster for several weeks since the death, in September of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Carrie L. Cole, who in turn succeeded her husband, Myron W. Cole upon his death in January, 1900.

The Exeter Hampton and Amesbury Street Railway has received the approval of the Massachusetts railroad commissioners and the Amesbury selection allowing them to run over the tracks of the Citizens' and Thayerhill and Amesbury lines. All through the extension to the road is completed beyond Newton. It is not thought that any cars will be run before spring.

You Needn't.

You needn't keep on feeling distressed after eating, nor belching, nor experiencing nausea between meals.

In other words, you needn't keep on being dyspeptic, and you certainly shouldn't.

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures dyspepsia—it strengthens and tones the stomach, perfects digestion, creates a normal appetite, and builds up the whole system.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take Lavender Bromine Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Goss's signature is on each box. 50c.

METHODIST CHURCH.

For Tuesday evening Rev. William Thompson of Newport will preach at the Methodist vestry on State street. This service will be conducted in the form of a revival service. There will be no extra service on Thursday evening on account of Thanksgiving day, but the regular class meeting will be held in the vestry on Friday evening.

Only thirty-five days left of the first year of the new century.

Full moon on Monday evening and no one would have known it.

The new moon seems to be shy about showing itself to the people.

The city is very healthy at the present time and the doctors are not as busy as usual.

This will be a busy week in the matrimonial line, in Portsmouth and vicinity.

"Cure the cough and save the life." Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures coughs and colds, down to the very verge of consumption.

The days have decreased five hours and forty-nine minutes, making the days length nine hours and twenty-eight minutes.

A party of prominent music-loving people from Kittery will attend the appearance of Miss Leonora Jackson at Music hall on Thanksgiving night.

The new clock of the South ward room is plainly visible in Kittery and the strange light at the South end has attracted attention on the other side of the river.

Builds up the system; puts pure, rich blood in the veins; makes men and women strong and healthy. Burdock Blood Bitters. At any drug store.

Postmaster Norton of Kennebunkport, Maine, who is building a hotel of about fifty rooms at that resort, has already made many arrangements for next summer. The new house sits a little way back from the ocean, on high land, near the cottage colony.

Those who were acquainted with the Hon. James T. Davidson of York were sadly surprised to learn of his sudden death. Owing to a misunderstanding, the papers of the city were in error in stating that death took place in York. The sad occurrence was at the former home of his wife in South Berwick, Me.

The agitation that is sweeping the country for the construction of warships at the navy yards ought to result in some favorable action. The demands are coming from the working people as well as from those who see nothing but delay and expense and annoyance in the work of contractors and private concerns.

Over two tons of Rhode Island turkeys were received at the Globe Grocery Co. on Monday evening. The first one only, lot ever sold in this section. The Rhode Island turkeys are the best in the world, being fed on white corn and buckwheat, sweet apples and such luxuries, and chestnuts as they pick up for themselves, with the addition of the toothsome, though occasional, grasshopper.

The cars that came up from York beach on Monday forenoon looked as though they had been shipwrecked, the vestibules had been washed by the seas and the aisles were scattered with small pieces of drift wood and pieces of sea weed. It was novel and interesting trip for the passengers and had it been generally known that a sea trip could have been taken in the electric, the road would not have had cars enough to accommodate the people who would have gone down to the beach.

Miss Jessie Saunders McDaniel, vocalist of this city, assisted at a song recital which was given by Miss Suzanne M. Shaw and Mr. Willis Fisher on Monday evening at York City. Mr. Arthur M. Donahue of this city officiated as pianist. Miss McDaniel is a most talented vocalist and a graduate from the Emerson College of Oratory. She gave much pleasure with her recitations which were warmly enjoyed.

GOOD FOR SEABROOK.

Seabrook is about to inaugurate a rigid enforcement of the law relating to parents or guardians who neglect or refuse to see that children between the ages of 5 and 16 attend school for the prescribed term. Constable James B. Eator has found mild methods inadequate to prevent truancy, especially in South Seabrook, where on a recent visit to one school it was found that 32 children enrolled are habitually absent. Each parent or guardian after official notice is liable to a fine of $10.

RIGHT HAND MAN.

W. Scott Smith, who occupies the "secretary" to the secretary of the interior, is regarded by all who know him as being Mr. Hitchcock's right arm. Mr. Smith is an elderly gentleman with blue eyes and gray mustache. He is always in a pleasant humor, and while willing to give out to the public any legitimate news items, refuses point blank to betray the confidence reposed in him by his chief, when asked regarding matters before the department.

Mr. Smith was formerly a news paper man, and for a number of years shortly after the Civil war was Washington correspondent for a number of leading newspapers. Subsequently he edited a paper in New Hampshire, and is well known in all parts of the "Granite State." Mr. Smith is a law graduate and a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, having served throughout the Civil war. He is a conscientious official, and believes in giving strict attention to duty, it being an unusual thing to find him idle.

HE APPRECIATES IT.

Editor of the Herald:—I, for one, at least, appreciate the efforts of your paper in the past and just now, favoring the construction of the United States warships by the government in the navy yards, where the work properly belongs and where it must soon be sent, in justice to the demands of the people all over the country. Such action by congress will be a move in the right direction. The best place also for the building of a battleship, is at the Portsmouth navy yard. Keep up the good work. E. C. H.

BATH IRON WORKS SHIPS.

All to Fit Out Here.

The U. S. monitor Nevada, the U. S. cruiser Cleveland and the battleship Georgia all building at Bath will be fitted out here. The contract calls for the delivery of all three vessels at the Portsmouth navy yard.

THANKSGIVING DAY SERVICE.

The annual Thanksgiving day service will be held at the Court street church next Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. F. H. Gardner, pastor of the Court street church, will preach a sermon appropriate to the day.

MANY WILL STARVE THIS WINTER.

Washington, Nov. 25.—John Good, consul general at Shanghai, reported to the state department that there are one-half million people in the Yangtze valley who will starve this winter unless help comes from the outside.

The Herald has early news.

HARBOR FRONT NEWS.

Arrived Nov. 25.—Schooners Hattie C. (British), Port Reading for Dorchester, with coal; Lygonia, Port Reading for Kittery, with coal; Milled A. Pope, Elizabethport for Kennebunk, with coal; Fannie F. Hall, Portland for navy yard, with brick; Julia Baker, do.; Annie Gus, Port Reading for Calais, with coal.

LEASE RECORDED.

There has been received at the Rockingham registry of deeds a lease by the Associates land company of Portsmouth to the Portsmouth Country Club of 183 acres in Portsmouth and Newington with the buildings thereon.

PERSONAL NEWS AND SOCIETY NOTES.

Mr. C. Ford Carmen of Kittery passed Saturday and Sunday in Boston.

Mark H. Wentworth, Esq., is seriously ill at his home on Pleasant street.

Miss Helen M. Wendell has been passing a few days in Belmont and Boston.

The condition of Dr. Lemuel Pope, Jr., continues to slowly improve and his ultimate recovery is expected.

Samuel Furbish, night watchman for the Boston & Maine railroad, is seriously ill at his home on Fleet street.

Mrs. Margaret Chase, who has been the guest of her brother, Mr. James Kehoe, has returned to her home in Lynn.

Sidney H. Winn has arrived home from a week passed in hunting in the Maine woods. He reports an excellent trip.

Mrs. E. P. Lawrence and Mrs. J. E. Hoxie will go to Jacksonville, Fla., soon and will pass the winter there and at St. Augustine.

Mrs. Andrew Meade of Auburn is the Thanksgiving guest of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Lovejoy, at her home on Maplewood avenue.

Miss Lucy Rand has closed her house on New Castle avenue, and will pass the winter with her sister, Mrs. Edgar Leighton of Somersworth.

Miss Minnie Eldredge, one of Kittery's leading young ladies and one moreover possessed of acknowledged histrionic talent, is planning to give an exhibition of amateur dramatics in the near future. The company under Miss Eldredge's able management will doubtless score a marked and deserved success.

AT THE NAVY YARD.

One of the new cutters will soon be out into the water.

Another schooner with brick has arrived at the yard.

Rear Admiral J. J. Read, U. S. N., returns in a few days to duty.

Two brick masons have been repaired in the department of yards and locks.

Lieut. McNamee, U. S. N., is proving a valuable assistant to the chief engineer of the yard.

The tide was very high at the yard Monday, coming within four inches of overflowing the wharves.

It will be only a matter of a short time when the different wires about the yard will be underground.

Thomas Morrill and Marshall Stimson of the steam engineering are enjoying a vacation of fifteen days.

Lieut. Craven, U. S. N., has a duty which taxes the powers of one's good nature, in presiding over the labor board office.

Civil Engineer L. E. Gregory, U. S. N., has been ordered to New Orleans as a member of a board to examine the new dry dock.

Cornelius Quinn has returned to his regular duty as electrician about the yard, after acting in the same capacity at the light station for two weeks.

Horace Williams of Kittery, an apprentice in the steam engineering brass foundry, who had one of his hands burned last week while pouring metal, has resumed his work.

The steam railroad contractors are putting in the side tracks and filling in between the rails in some places with crushed stone. Almost all the steel has been laid, including the frogs for the sidings.

The new chimney for the electric light building is nearly completed and the fancy bricks are being put on at the top. The work on the structure was done in a quick time and it is one of the best jobs of the kind ever done at this yard.

GOOD FOR HARBOR DEFENCE.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 26.—The opinion among experts here regarding the recent tests of the submarine boat Fulton, in remaining under water 15 consecutive hours, is that the test adds nothing that the experts have not known regarding the practicability of such a test.

Rear Admiral O'Neill, naval chief of ordnance, said Monday: "The fact that the boat had but six feet of water above her shows that she was not subjected to any great pressure. The trial did not show she could move on the bottom or cruise under water, although we know she can run with her body entirely submerged."

"Nothing has occurred in the past year to show conclusively the claims made by the inventors that the submarine boat will displace the battleship as a weapon of war. The functions of this type are for harbor defence, and in that line I believe they would prove most useful adjuncts to the navy. With a fearless and capable set of officers and crew there is no reason why a submarine boat might not steal out of a harbor and attach a torpedo to a battleship before detection. They are not intended, however, for deep sea work, and cannot possibly operate far from shore."

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Annie Loyde.

Annie Loyde, wife of Charles Loyde of Newington, died last evening as the result of injuries received some three weeks ago in a runaway accident in this city. Mrs. Loyde was in the carriage on State street when a runaway hack struck the carriage throwing her out. She was in the hospital for a week, but was thought to be recovering and was taken home. She leaves a widow and four children.

Mrs. Harriet L. Tarlton.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.
By His Excellency, Chester B. Jordan, Governor.

Proclamation for a day of Public Thanksgiving and Praise:
Ever since the golden autumn of 1621 dawned upon our forefathers at Plymouth for various reasons and at sundry times, Thanksgiving days have been observed. Fast and Thanksgiving days from time to time were appointed as waves of sorrow or streams of joy broke over our ancestors. The annual harvest festival, so beautifully inaugurated and long kept, first by the colonies and afterwards by the state, was most appropriately nationalized by the immortal Lincoln in November, 1863.

This day more than any other takes strong hold upon our hearts, our affections, our souls. Around it cluster tenderest memories of father, mother, brother, sister and friend, and all were once together about the home fireside and set up their household Penates. In our visions, dreams and recollections these homelies, home scenes, some of them too sacred to tell to the world, come thronging in upon us, to make both us and the day better. A day dedicated to so much that is dear, so enshrined in heart and home, should be worthily, tenderly and patriotically kept.

The God of grace and of plenty has dealt most kindly with all our people in state and nation, the past year. The harvests have been abundant. Pestilence and famine have been unknown. Evidences of unusual thrift, enterprise, prosperity, and of loyalty to the flag are manifest in every section of our great country.

Because of these and other innumerable blessings, abounding from ocean to ocean, I do, with the consent of the council, appoint Thursday, the 25th day of November, current, as a day of Thanksgiving prayer, and holy home convocation. In the church, by our hearthstones, and wherever lot and duty on that day may place us, let praise, prayer and Thanksgiving go up from honest hearts and sincere souls to Him who holdeth the destinies of all peoples and the wealth of all worlds in His hands, for giving our fathers victory in their bloody struggle to found this government; for being with their sons in the terrific conflict to maintain and perpetuate it; for staying up the hands of our rulers amid great perplexities; for enduring riches unceasingly flowing from church and school; for putting it into the minds of the more fortunate to so spend their means as best to succeed, aid and make better the physical, social, mental and moral conditions of the less favored ones of earth; for life, health, prosperity, and the virtues of honesty, sobriety and simplicity.

And when we are about to assemble around the well-supplied family table and a hush comes over us, as we listen for footfalls of those who long since passed on to the Thanksgiving eternal, may we have the sublime satisfaction that most surely comes from duty and benevolence to the stranger, the sick, and the unfortunate.

Given at the council chamber in Concord, this fifth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and one, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and twenty-sixth.

CHESTER B. JORDAN,
Governor.

By His Excellency, the governor, with advice of the council.
EDWARD N. PEARSON,
Secretary of State.

NEWFIELDS.

The 4-months old child of Elmer F. Glines, the unfortunate man who committed suicide Saturday morning by hanging in the car house at Rockingham Junction, died at one o'clock Sunday morning. Both Glines and his child will be taken to his old home at Montpelier, Vt., today for interment. It is an extremely sad case and the citizens are in deep sympathy with Mrs. Glines.

The South Newmarket grange is making great preparations for a bazaar, which will take place at the town hall this evening. Fancy work and confectionary will be on sale and a guess cake will be disposed of.

Miss Alice M. Connor of Plymouth Normal school is spending a ten days' vacation at her home in town.

The Y. P. C. U. of the Universalist church is preparing for a drama, which will be presented about Christmas.

Mrs. C. S. Strout and son, Edwin, of Biddeford, Me., are the guests of Mrs. Strout's father, H. J. Paul.

LOW PRICES.

Many people shout Low Prices. The prices are low—so is the quality of the goods. We say low prices and we back up the statement with a good strong reason. We can make the best clothing—make it as well as it can be made—at low prices, because our expenses are light and we have manufacturing. There is no use throwing money away. There is no use paying any more for perfection than you have to. We will be glad to see you at any time.
